School Land Bonus— State Gets First Oil Royalty

Presentation Highlights
Celebration At Kimball

KIMBALL (P)—An official of the Stanolind Purchasing Co., Tuesday presented a check to State Treasurer Frank B. Heintze as the first royalty payment for oil produced on school lands in Nebraska.

The presentation was the highlight of a double-barreled celebration staged in recognition of the first producing oil well on school land and of the rapid growth of oil production in Kimball County. Including two wells brought in Tuesday, Kimball County has had 40 producing oil wells and only 23 dry holes since the first well came in on June 27, 1951.

It is now considered the "hot-test spot" in the Julesburg Basin, where western Nebraska's oil wells are located.

$448.73 Check

Heintze received the $448.73 check from George C. Gedgood of Stanolind as payment of royalties from the State No. 1 well in the first 15 days of production.

Ceremonies were held at the well site which is nine miles east and nine miles south of Kimball. A crowd of between 3,000 and 4,000 was on hand for the ceremonies, which includes a free barbecue and a free dance Tuesday night.

State Officials

Besides Heintze other state officials present included State Auditor Ray Johnson, Attorney General Clarence S. Beck, State Superintendent Freeman B. Decker and Henry H. Bartling, Secretary of the Board of Educational Lands and Funds, which receives the oil royalties on school lands.

Also on hand were members of the Republican Campaign caravan and William Ritchie, Democratic candidate for the short term in the U. S. Senate.

No Partisanship

All of the speakers shied away from partisanship as they participated in the oil celebration.

The master of ceremonies was S. E. Torgeson, Kimball attorney, on whose land the first oil well in Kimball County was discovered 15 months ago.

During that time drilling companies have spent in the neighborhood of three and a half million dollars and uncovered a potential oil supply of more than 15,000 barrels per day.

Because of transportation limitations most wells are rationed to an output of 45 barrels per day.

Nine Rigs

There are now nine rigs active in the county.

The producing wells brought in Tuesday were the J. A. C. Kennedy No. 2, drilled by Shell Oil Co., and the Wytex and Tela Oil corporation's Hagemeister No. 3, both in the southwest Potter field.

Lindholm Is Head Of Niobrara Basin Developing Group

AINSWORTH, Neb. (P)—Vern Lindholm of Ainsworth was elected president of the Niobrara River Basin Development Association directors here Tuesday which heard a report on plans for a $214 million plan for developing the river.

Lindholm had been secretary-treasurer of the group. J. D. Borman of Gordon was named vice president. Newly-elected directors are El Clint, Rushville, and Carl Zutz, Burke, S. D.

1,400 Attend New Bible Dedication Service

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

More than 1,400 persons who attended the dedication of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible at St. Paul Methodist Church Tuesday night bowed their heads as the prayer "how we thank Thee for Thy Word, oh God" filtered through the church.

It was only one of 80 such services of thanksgiving for the new translation held in Nebraska, and one of 3,400 held in the nation and attended by more than two million people.

Speaker Dr. Harold Bosley, native of Burchard, Neb., told the assembled throng that "the Scriptures are our authority."

This is not the last translation, he said. But it is the most adequate translation of the Book in light of present knowledge, he added.

"There is no such thing as a final translation of the Bible," Dr. Bosley declared, "so long as we continue to discover things about the life and writings of the people who wrote this Book."

No man has the right to say this Book is true or false, he said, unless they test its insight in their own life.

The Bible, he said, is the authority of "unconquerable hope" and "power."

The sword of Egypt, Babylon, Greece and Rome were blunted and broken on the faith that grew out of this Book, the Nebraska Wesleyan graduate said.

There are a lot of questions unanswered in the Book, he stated, because of translation difficulties. But do not be so troubled with the questions that "you forget to cherish this Book," he warned.

And he called upon the parents to make the Book a "part of the furniture in the minds of your children."

As a symbol of the Bible to the community, six community groups were recipients of the new Bibles presented by Rev. Raleigh Peterson.

Representatives for the groups were Herbert Anderson for the city's hospitals; Steven Watkins, for the schools; Hugo Srb for the legislature; Grace Bennett for the YWCA; Marvin Rector for the YMCA and Alice Longaker for the youth of Lincoln.

The invocation, declaration and benediction was given by Dr. E. E. Smith, president of the Lincoln Council of Churches, which sponsored the service.

A mass choir representing many Lincoln church choristers, directed by Hugh Rangelier, sang the anthem, "Surely the Lord Is in His Place" and other selections.

Dr. Harold Sandall of Grace Methodist Church read the scriptures from the new version. Houghton Furr and Jo Waddell played the organ for the service.

A hymn, "The Divine Gift," composed by Sarah E. Taylor of Rhode Island for this occasion, was sung by the congregation.

—Smith Amplifies His Infiltration Statement— No Reds Detected In CIA Ranks In This Country

Intelligence Chief Explains Controversial Remarks To Truman, Stevenson, Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (INS)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith Tuesday informed President Truman, Gen. Eisenhower and Gov. Stevenson that no Communists have ever been detected in the ranks of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency "in the United States."

Smith, chief of the CIA, said he gave the chief executive and the presidential candidates an "accurate" statement explaining his controversial references to Communist infiltration of the nation's global espionage agency.

The general emphasized his conviction that government agencies must "act on the assumption that our opponents are at least as smart as we are," and therefore must assume that Red agents have been able to achieve undetected infiltration.

The House Un-American Activities Committee announced in Los Angeles, meanwhile, that Smith will be subpoenaed before the group in Philadelphia Oct. 13.

Storm Of Criticism

Smith's report to Mr. Truman, Eisenhower and Stevenson was made amid a storm of Republican criticism resulting from the CIA chief's comment Monday that he was "morally certain" Communists had infiltrated his own organization.

GOP leaders denounced what they called "incredible looseness" in national security. Former Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn) was assigned to speak over an NBC TV-radio network Tuesday night on what Republican National Chairman Summerfield termed Smith's "shocking revelation."

Smith's "morally certain" comment was made as he gave a deposition in the two million dollar slander suit brought by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) against Sen. Benton (D-Conn).

The general, asked if he would agree that there are Communists in the State Department, said he would so agree, and added that he believed there were Reds in his own agency.

State department spokesman Michael McDermott declared he knows of no Communists in the department, and that constant vigilance is being maintained against Red infiltration.

Smith, at an unprecedented news conference, made public his report to the President and the Republican and Democratic standard bearers. He told newsmen that he worked on the "assumption" of such Communist tactics.

The general said his report to Eisenhower and Stevenson was (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8.)

Polio Total For Nebraska Rises To Nearly Four Times Previous Record

With reports received of 117 new cases of polio in the state last week, the state health department Tuesday said the total for the year to date has risen to 1,623 as compared with 329 reported at this time last year and 479 for the previous peak year of 1948.

Doctors busy with other illnesses than polio have complicated the state accounting by delaying reporting. This is particularly true of cases treated in the home. Other diseases with similar symptoms in the early stages have also caused those reporting immediately to change their diagnosis.

In Lincoln one Lancaster County victim was among six cases admitted to local hospitals Tuesday. Janet Lea Focht, 9, 824 N. 30th, entered St. Elizabeth Hospital—the county's 20th polio case for the year.

Mrs. Nettie Clark, 27, and Mrs. Goldie Tinnoe, 46, both of York, were admitted to Lincoln General Tuesday. Other new cases: Anna Marie Karek, 9, David City, Orthopedic; Olivia Duesing, 16, Bremer, Kan., Orthopedic; Glen Turner, 52, Bern, Kan., Lincoln General.

Candidate Raecke Asks Repeal Of Nebraska Pre-Primary Law

By The Associated Press

Walter R. Raecke Tuesday night recommended repeal of the Nebraska law governing the pre-primary endorsement of candidates for state offices.

In remarks at Hebron, the Democratic candidate for governor said the law has been so amended it is hardly worth while, and voters have demonstrated their independence by voting on several occasions for non-endorsed candidates.

Raecke also said he believes the law should be amended so that delegates to party national conventions would be bound to respect the outcome of the state's presidential preference primaries for a certain number of ballots.

Elimination of the second-choice balloting and elimination of balloting for vice-president in the state's presidential preference primaries also were recommended.

Raecke moved into Hebron after a busy day's schedule with stops at Reynolds, Hubbell, Chester, Byron, Deshler, Davenport, Carleton, Bruning, Alexandria and Belvidere. Another full schedule Wednesday will wind up with an evening address at Red Cloud, where he will be joined by Democratic National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle, Omaha.

Robert Crosby, Raecke's opponent, and others in the Republican campaign caravan spent Tuesday night at Ogallala after a day of visits to Mitchell, Gering, Kimball, Sidney, Chappell and Oshkosh.

A reorganization of the State Agriculture Department to relieve it of "some of its non-agricultural functions" was urged by Crosby.

Crosby said that such a reorganization would "give a more single-minded attention to the agricultural problems of Nebraska."

Among the duties Crosby called unrelated to agriculture, were collection of cigarette and motor fuel taxes and several inspection duties.

Stevenson Chided By General In Third Invasion Of Southland

Eisenhower Hops
Off On 28-State
Speaking Tour

COLUMBIA, S. C. (INS)—Gen. Eisenhower lashed the Truman administration Tuesday as the "scandal-a-day administration" and slapped at Gov. Stevenson for shifting the blame for bad government to "the people."

Eisenhower, in his third invasion of the South, eliminated a key paragraph in his prepared address on the touchy civil rights issue in which he had pledged to "support and seek to strengthen and extend to every American every right that the constitution guarantees."

Instead, Eisenhower told the Southern audience "equality of opportunity" is one of the nation's most basic principles and there can be no "second class citizens" in the United States.

The Republican candidate invaded the Democratic stronghold at the invitation of Democratic Gov. James Byrnes.

Crowd of 50,000

The general asked the cheering crowd of 50,000 to put loyalty to the nation above "loyalty to a political party" when they cast their votes.

He condemned the administration's record on corruption, inflation and foreign policy. Eisenhower spoke in front of the South Carolina State Capitol here after a glowing introduction by Gov. Byrnes, who has announced he will vote for Ike.

Byrnes, former secretary of state in President Truman's cabinet, warned the Democratic Party in a speech praising Eisenhower's qualifications as President that South Carolina is "out of the bag."

He told the crowd, one of the biggest Ike has drawn anywhere, "if we want to avoid a Third World War, to bring an end to the war in Korea and bring an end to corruption in Washington, we can best do it by electing as President Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Eisenhower said the Democratic candidate has discovered that "the total record of this administration is too heavy a millstone for any candidate to bear." For this reason, Ike said, he blames "the people" instead of the administration.

8,000 Mile Swing

The GOP nominee devoted the major portion of his speech to chiding Stevenson for his statement in a recent Los Angeles talk that if the people do not get good government it is their own fault.

Ike warned that America weakens itself both at home and abroad "when any group of our people are ranked—politically or economically—as second class citizens."

The Columbia speech launched an 8,000 mile barnstorming swing that will take Eisenhower into 28 states from coast to coast in the next 25 days.

"Equality Of Opportunity"

The Columbia appearance marked the third foray into the Democratic "Solid South" for Eisenhower, who is making the most intensive campaign south of the Mason-Dixon Line ever waged by a Republican presidential candidate.

He said "equality of opportunity" is one of the nation's most basic principles and warned "weakness" which results both at home and abroad when its minority groups are discriminated against.

Ike pledged a government that will "root out corruption" and protect the rights of the people, declaring:

"Wherever government has boarded up or nailed shut the doors of opportunity, we will pull out the nails, take down the boards, and release the ambition, the imagination and the industry of our people."

Little Chance In Carolina

The general's advisers concede privately he has little chance of winning South Carolina despite Byrnes' support, but are hopeful he will be able to carry at least one or two other southern states.

Meanwhile, Ike's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, announced the general would make a statement on his personal finances at a later date after getting his records together.

16 Towns

Long, who has appeared with the Democratic caravan in 16 Nebraska towns in the past two days, charged his opponent with fighting the recommendations of the Hoover Commission, a group designed to promote efficiency and reduce waste in government.

Sen. Butler, he said, voted against 17 of the 18 proposals recommended by the commission. On one stand the senator was joined by only six other

Gruenther May Succeed Gen. Van Fleet In Korea

Nebraskan Considered Strong Possibility
To Become Chief Of Staff In Summer Of '53

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (INS)—Pentagon sources predicted Tuesday that Gen. James A. Van Fleet will be relieved in Korea before the end of this year and said Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, native Nebraskan, is a likely successor.

They said Gruenther, now in Paris, may become Army chief of staff when Gen. J. Lawton Collins' term ends next Aug. 16, and that it is considered desirable for Gruenther to get additional "combat experience" in Korea to put him in line for the job.

Gen. Gruenther was born March 3, 1899, at Plattville, Neb., the son of an editor. He graduated from West Point in 1918.

Rotation Policy

Van Fleet's relief as commander of the U. S. Eighth army would be under the Army's policy of rotating even its highest officers from Korean commands in less than two years. He has already served 17 months.

Plans have not yet been submitted to Defense Secretary Lovett or President Truman. But the sources said that Collins has the primary responsibility for the assignment of Army officers and they are confident Lovett and the White House would go along with his decision.

Although Van Fleet is known to be dissatisfied with the progress of the war in Korea, and is believed to have submitted a number of reports recommending that the U. S. either prosecute the war more vigorously or take more decisive steps to get an armistice, sources said he has not asked for relief.

In fact, they said, there is considerable doubt as to where Van Fleet might be assigned or whether he might retire after leaving Korea. He can retire by choice with Lovett's approval at any time, and will reach the mandatory retirement age of 62 on March 17, 1954.

Inside Track

Gruenther, now chief of staff to the Allied commander-in-chief in Paris, is believed to have the inside track to succeed Collins, especially if Gen. Eisenhower enters the White House. Also in case of a Democratic victory at the polls, he would be considered a logical successor to the post.

When he was mentioned as Eisenhower's possible successor as commander-in-chief in Paris, the principal criticism was that Gruenther did not have enough combat experience.

Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and Lt. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, both members of Collins' staff in the Pentagon, are others being mentioned as possible successors to Van Fleet.

Long Declares Butler Senator Only '25 Per Cent Of Time'

Stanley D. Long, Democratic candidate for senator for the long term, speaking here Tuesday night, lashed out at his opponent, Republican Sen. Hugh Butler, for his record of "isolationism, absenteeism, obstructionism and aggressive-ness."

Sen. Butler, he told the Lancaster County Democratic Committee at the YMCA, has been a senator for only about 25 per cent of the time as shown by his absentee record.

"His record, which includes absenteeism without parallel in the Senate, is an example of placing party politics before the interests of the common man on the street. It is a record of disservice to the people of Nebraska."

Long, who has appeared with the Democratic caravan in 16 Nebraska towns in the past two days, charged his opponent with fighting the recommendations of the Hoover Commission, a group designed to promote efficiency and reduce waste in government.

Sen. Butler, he said, voted against 17 of the 18 proposals recommended by the commission. On one stand the senator was joined by only six other

Lincoln Survives Driest September Since '39, Hottest Since '48

This September was a hot and dry month, agreed the Lincoln weatherman. But it was only the "driest September since 1939" and the "warmest since 1948."

And Tuesday saw the mercury climb to a record high in Lincoln for a Sept. 30. The weather bureau recorded a hot 92. The previous Sept. 30 high was 90, in 1897 and in 1942. The airport weather station recorded a high of 94.

The Weather Bureau in Washington Tuesday didn't offer much hope either. According to the Associated Press, the bureau predicted it will be warmer than usual during October in the western half of the country.

And to make it even more gloomy the bureau added: "Subnormal rainfall is indicated over most of the nation except east of the Appalachians and in the Southwest."

For those Lincolnites searching their memories for other "record Septembers" the weather bureau consulted its files going back to 1878 and came up with the following:

The driest September of all-time was in 1888. Only .08 of an inch fell during the month as compared with this September's .40 inches total.

This year had only the fifth driest September on record. Others were in 1899 with .39 inches; 1892 with .17 and 1939 with .26.

However 1952 is approaching the "longest dry spell between good rains" record of 1939.

The last "good rain" in 1952 was 1.04-inches recorded for Aug. 28 with measurable traces of .36 Sept. 1, .02 for Sept. 13 and .02 for Sept. 20.

Lots of Sun

The weatherman noted that seven days of 90-degree weather had been recorded for the month as compared the five-day normal. Lincoln also had 83 per cent possible sunshine as compared with the 66 per cent normal.

The hottest September of record was a 74.8 average established in 1897. September, 1952, averaged approximately 70 degrees as compared with 70.8 for the month in 1948. The September normal is 66.4.

The low humidity for the month provided "good corn drying weather," but probably a little too good as farmers prefer a light frost or heavy dew for best results with a mechanical picker. However, wheat farmers are scanning the skies for what much needed rain for the winter wheat.

ON THE FARM—G. H. Zipp, 915 West A, a retired farmer finds the wheat field of his son-in-law, T. F. Wenzel, Rt. 5, is dusty. Although some of the wheat is green, there is some of the seed that has not sprouted because of a lack in moisture. (Star Photo.)

Chemical Factory Smashed

New Electronic Finding Device Used By Yankees

SEOUL (Wednesday) (INS)—High flying American B-29 Superforts, using a secret electronic target-finding device, smashed a big Red chemical plant on the doorstep of Manchuria today with 418 tons of explosives.

About 45 of the great bombers struck from bases in Japan and Okinawa at the sprawling Namsan chemical plant, only three miles downstream from the Suho Dam on the Yalu River, major electrical power source in the area.

The Suho power plant was the target of one of the heaviest air raids of the Korean War some months ago.

Three Waves

First incomplete Air Force reports in Tokyo said the Superforts blasted the chemical plant in three waves, beginning shortly after midnight.

The Air Force said the plant has been shipping strategic tungsten carbide, black lead and chemical oils to Manchuria and to the industrial area around the North Korean Red capital of Pyongyang.

Air Force intelligence officers said it was possible some of the products may have gone to Russia. Tungsten is an essential element in the manufacture of jet aircraft engines.

ROKs Lose Hill

On the ground front in Korea, Chinese Red troops, after all-night battering attacks, drove South Korean defenders from a central sector hill Tuesday in vicious hand-to-hand combat.

It was the third Central Front hill lost by the South Koreans to overpowering Chinese assaults since Sunday and the Reds were increasing their pressure all along the central sector.

The Chinese began hammering at the hill, east of Kumsong, with strong tank support at dusk Monday.

Throughout the night the grim South Korean troops threw back thrust after thrust, but the Chinese swarmed onto the hill in savage close quarter action at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday and forced the defenders to fall back.

Realtor Faces Murder Charge As Wife Slain

SIoux CITY (AP)—Philip M. Hegstrom, 48, prominent Sioux City real estate dealer, was charged with first degree murder late Tuesday in the slaying of his 53-year-old wife, Ruth, who was beaten to death Monday night in the kitchen of their fashionable suburban home here.

The charge was filed in Municipal Court by Woodbury County Attorney Wallace Huff who said that Hegstrom had repeatedly refused to answer any questions or to make any statement.

Police are holding as evidence two heavy coffee cups of the type used in restaurants. The cups, splattered with blood, were found beside the body of Mrs. Hegstrom on the kitchen floor. She had suffered 17 scalp wounds and one side of her head was bashed in.

Police said the coffee mugs undoubtedly were the weapons used.

Huff said it was his theory that Hegstrom suspected his wife of "snooping" to federal men about his tax affairs and that a violent argument ensued.

—Springfield— Adlai Talk Praised By Thousands

Telegram Flood Follows Chicago Campaign Talk

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A grateful Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson Tuesday thumbed through stacks of telegrams praising his Chicago campaign speech, and associates of the Democratic presidential nominee talked of the response as amazing.

In Monday night's nationwide television and radio address which brought the reaction, Stevenson said America must play the main role in saving "ourselves, our friends and civilization" in the struggle against "this monster tyranny" of Communism.

The Illinois governor also discussed the corruption-in-government issue, how to deal with inflation, and the war in Korea. And he again defended his policy of supplementing the pay of state officials who he says otherwise could not afford to leave private employment.

Flood Of Wires

A few telegrams lauding the speech had begun to roll into Springfield by the time the governor returned from Chicago late Monday night. Tuesday, a spokesman said, the trickle became a flood of several thousand messages.

Murray Flanders, assistant press secretary to Stevenson, told newsmen he had gone through about 500 telegrams and that about 99 per cent of them commended the governor.

Flanders said the Chicago address brought the greatest reaction of any since the governor's July speech accepting the presidential nomination.

"I Am Grateful"

Stevenson himself went over the messages and then put out this statement:

"I have tried to tell the truth about our world as I see it and I am grateful that so many people want to hear it and are eager to face it."

Stevenson made his Chicago address from a closed TV-radio studio—the first he has made during the campaign without a "live" audience on hand.

Stevenson spent the day at his desk working on campaign speeches for a swing into Ohio Friday and into Iowa and Minnesota Saturday.

North Platte Man Bears A Striking Likeness To Adlai

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—

The current presidential campaign has called attention to the fact that Gov. Adlai Stevenson has a "lookalike" here in Sam Diedrichs, a lawyer and former county attorney.

Both Sam and Adlai are 52 years old. Both have been elected to office on the Democratic ticket. And Sam's mother's maiden name was Stevenson.

So the two men have more than just physical appearance in common.

Diedrichs says he first became aware of the similarity when an acquaintance encountered him on the street, slapped him on the shoulder and said: "Hello, Adlai."

"I didn't mind the greeting so much, nor did I think too much about it," he said. "Fact is, the only thing that made much of an impression on me was his hand. It was my sore shoulder he clunked me on."

As to whom he'll vote for in November, Stevenson or Eisenhower, Diedrichs isn't saying.

According to Lincoln Clearing House Association figures, clearings for September, 1952, were $36,139,852.14 and $32,584,335.30 during September, 1951.

Clearings during the first nine months of 1952 totaled $320,331,155.72 and $312,033,091.09 during the same period in 1951.

Construction For September Hits $812,545

Total estimated construction costs in Lincoln during September hit $817,505 as 1952 continued to lag behind the record year of 1951.

September failed to produce any startling building events such as the amazing 426 new dwelling permits taken out last month with a total estimated cost of $2,683,545. September's new home permits totaled 42 single family units and one duplex with a combined estimated cost of $298,960.

Last month, however, might be considered a freak as a release of natural gas supplies for some 600 new homes pushed builders into taking out permits by the dozens for homes which may or may not be built.

Nine Months

The total estimated construction costs for all purposes for the first nine months of 1952 is $10,715,719. That figure at the same time last year was $11,225,108.

Among the major constructions for which permits were issued during September of this year are the new Nebraska Wesleyan physical education building estimated at $141,000, three service stations costing $47,000, three retail stores at $104,800, one motel at $30,000 and one roller rink at $50,000.

This year's monthly construction totals, number of new homes and cost of homes are as follows:

	Cost	New Homes	Cost
January	$ 377,875	48	$ 324,550
February	1,320,319	137	818,950
March	872,900	109	724,800

July	672,325	82	483,985
August	2,853,000	428	2,683,545

Adlai Charges GOP Communist Claims 'Ludicrous'

Gen. Smith Incident Is Explained

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson Tuesday issued a statement obviously aimed at preventing Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower from making any political capital out of Gen. Walter Bedell Smith's assertion that he assumes Communists have penetrated every U. S. security agency.

Smith, chief of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) so testified Monday.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, said the net result of Smith's testimony—and of an amplifying statement Smith put out later—is to "make ludicrous the claim of Republicans" that the task of nabbing any Communists in government "is a simple job which can be done easily if it is turned over to them"—the Republicans.

Amplifying Statement

After his testimony, Smith issued an amplifying statement saying he was acting "on the assumption" that Communists had penetrated security organizations.

In a statement to newsmen Tuesday, Smith said that despite "the most unusual precautions" CIA has never found a Communist in its ranks in the United States.

And Stevenson, in his statement, noted that Smith was the chief of staff during World War II of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, now the Republican presidential nominee.

The governor's statement said: "What this episode really shows is that the problems of fighting Communist penetration in government is a job for our security agencies and a job that never ends."

Exploitation Caution

The Illinois governor said a highly professional, non-political intelligence agency is indispensable to the government, whether a Republican or a Democrat is president.

Then, in an obvious move to block any exploitation of the episode by Eisenhower or other Republicans, Stevenson added: "It must never become a political football. To exploit Gen. Smith's first statement for partisan purposes is the kind of political opportunism that will never catch Communists."

'Politics Boosting Cigaret Smoking'

The political campaign—or something—is causing Nebraskans to puff more vigorously and frequently on their cigarettes. The three-cent sales tax collections in September amounted to $330,010, H. L. Wichman, chief of the division, reported.

This is an increase of $19,087 over the amount collected in the same month a year ago. It was only slightly under the $366,930 collected in August which was the highest amount collected since April.

Where The Eagle Nests

There have been many times in recent weeks when this editor has hungered for the high peaks, the green forests and the clear streams of the Rockies.

There is a tranquility in the clean air of the high mountain slopes which seems to possess the miraculous power to reduce to their proper stature all of these problems pressing down upon peoples. It is impossible to forget those gay, clear streams, fed by the eternal snows of the lofty crests. They represent something in this world—something that is good. They symbolize life. There is a glory to the pine forests which stretch endlessly for miles, far beyond the eye's horizon, a dependable coat of beauty and worth. Even the animals of the wild, shy of man, for the most part speak of the great forces that have molded our world.

There is a little bit of this in all of us, we are inclined to believe, and on occasion it becomes the more marked.

What are we doing to a fine people in the heat of one of our most bitterly partisan presidential campaigns? As it came in on the wire Monday night, it seemed to us that the statement given out to the press by Gen. Walter Bedell Smith could have only one result. It could only disturb people already disturbed.

The news stories quoted Gen. Smith as expressing the opinion that, in his belief, Communists have infiltrated every United States security organization, including the hush-hush Central Intelligence Agency which Smith himself has headed for the past two years. Then he added, the news report said, that he did not know what persons in the CIA are Communists, that he wished he did and was doing everything he knew what to do to detect them. Then followed another paragraph in which he said it was his belief that they (the Communists) are so adroit and adept, they have infiltrated every security agency of government.

If you are asking us, it is the opinion of this writer that America, much as it respects its military leaders, has had an overdose of military leadership. The Smith statement (Smith is a close personal friend of Gen. Eisenhower) was a stupid thing, in our judgment. What useful purpose could it have served in broadcasting a warning of Communist activity if the man who headed the Central Intelligence Agency ended up lamely by saying that he was doing everything in his power to detect Communists but he did not know of any. He merely had his suspicions, and a very common thing today in a world filled with suspicion, distrust, and the ugliness that is an essential part of that climate.

Soon the wires were humming with the announcement that Gen. Eisenhower's next campaign trip would see him enlarge upon Gen. Smith's warning. And Clare Booth Luce was slated to fill the air with her views as a contribution to the campaign. And Smith called an unprecedented news conference to complain of faulty emphasis on what he said. In a later clarification of his comment, Gen. Smith said there had been no Communists associated with or detected in his agency in the United States.

It may catch some votes to work this over in approved campaign style but nothing that will be said by either one, we doubt, will catch any Communists.

The Christian Science Monitor became ecstatic editorially when it noted that Gen. Eisenhower at Baltimore had dug into a subject upon which he speaks with first-hand knowledge and authority—efficient defense. Three-fourths of the national budget is devoted to this purpose. While three-fourths of the campaign cannot be devoted to its discussion, a very large measure of attention should be given to it by both candidates in public. With much of that there will be complete agreement.

But the next conclusion leaves a great many slightly bewildered. The general's reasoning is that better defense can be bought for less money. He (Gen. Eisenhower) contends that a jaded, ingrown administration cannot supply either the ideas or the energy to end feast-and-famine, start-and-stop planning and set up an imaginative, far-sighted defense program.

The military, of which Gen. Eisenhower is only one symbol, has been doing the bulk of the planning of national defense. Nobody but the military has had a hand in the preliminary estimates of needs financially, needs later submitted to the Budget Bureau. And among those actively associated with planning national security in the popular sense, at least, has been Gen. Eisenhower, in connection with his NATO mission, in earlier years, his command in Europe.

Unless we read the signs wrong, a lot of people are becoming a little weary of this stuff and yearning for the clear air of the mountains.

Farewell To September

Many Nebraskans, it is believed, will regret September's passing. Generally the month can be classed as "Mr. In-Between"—neither summer nor fall—reflecting neither the vigor of the growing season nor the quiet of an outdoors asleep.

It was on the fingertips to suggest that this September of 1952 is the driest in Nebraska's experience, but a check of the records at the Weather Bureau corrects that wrongful impression. There, the records disclose, the driest September on record was in 1888 when only .08 of an inch of moisture fell. This September closes its books with .40 of an inch of rain at the Lincoln recording station. The driest September previous to 1952 came in 1939 when only .26 of an inch fell. There have been five Septembers during the 75 years when records have been available when less than .40 of an inch of moisture was received.

There was a timely warning in Mrs. Swingle's column Tuesday. Lawns, flowers and shrubs should not be permitted to go into the winter and its biting temperatures without moisture. The people of Lincoln take a great deal of pride in their homes. Unless rain comes soon, they will reap handsome dividends next year by seeing to it that the soil is soaked.

Wisconsin's Choice

The campaign to clean up, explain and rehabilitate Sen. Joseph McCarthy is reaching a new peak following his victory over a fellow Republican in the recent Wisconsin state primary. The pattern is the same in all those publications which are putting political fortunes above national morality: "We don't agree with a lot of McCarthy's methods," they say, "but he has done a good job."

This pure poppycock is expected to gain acceptance by the process of repetition, a technique perfected by totalitarianism of both right and left. Over and over again the same record is played, until the tune has become known and—in some areas—popular.

One newspaper, the Milwaukee Journal, almost always included in lists of America's 10 best newspapers, has consistently endeavored to keep the record straight. In an editorial the other day it put the facts right on the line. It said, in part:

"An overwhelming majority of Wisconsin citizens who voted in the Republican primary endorsed Sen. McCarthy. Thus they nominated a man who:

"Was censured by the Wisconsin Supreme Court for destroying evidence in an important case in which he was judge.

"Was found by this same court to have violated his oath as a lawyer and a judge.

"Was charged by the Board of State Bar Commissioners with 'moral turpitude.'

"Tried to fool the people about his war record, claiming he enlisted as a private when he actually entered service as a commissioned officer; pretended to have been wounded when he actually injured his foot in a moment of horseplay on board a ship.

"Left the military service of his country while the war was still raging so that he could advance his own political fortunes.

"Accepted a $10,000 fee from the Lustron Corporation while he, a senator, was serving on a committee passing on policies of a federal agency lending millions of dollars to that corporation.

"Had his bank note endorsed by a Washington lobbyist and immediately championed a sugar control measure of vital interest to that lobbyist.

"Had to be required by the Wisconsin tax commission to pay more than $2,700 in delinquent income taxes and interest.

"Charged that Gen. George C. Marshall was disloyal to his country.

"Attempted to link Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with what he called the 'Marshall conspiracy.'

"Was named by Washington correspondents as the 'worst senator.'

"Loosed a campaign of character assassination against many American citizens and institutions while hiding behind his senatorial immunity.

"Has been caught in dozens of lies, half truths and misstatements only to leap from one falsehood to another—always making charges, seldom answering them."

The Milwaukee Journal concludes that the fact that a majority of voters in Wisconsin "fell for this hoax" is "not only appalling—it is frightening."

It should only be necessary to add that the Milwaukee Journal, an independent newspaper, supports the Republican ticket. It adds shame to those newspapers which, in their support of the candidacy of Gen. Eisenhower, believe that it is justifiable to ignore or gloss over the McCarthy record. It is the old idea that the end justifies the means.

This idea, needless to say, is not traditionally American. It is morally wrong, and—if the inherent decency of the American people speaks out again as it always has—it will be proven to be politically wrong too.

Garbage Everywhere

Garbage problems aren't limited to Nebraska's eastern cities along the Missouri River, for the people along the Potomac are having troubles of their own. It was only a few years ago that the pollution of the Potomac was eloquently described as the equivalent of 10 million dead mules. It is even worse than that now, according to recent sewage surveys.

That's one mess in Washington which no one will dispute.

History Repeating

Time passes, but some things never change. Hjalmar Schacht, the German financial wizard, departed from Iran after telling Iranians that they would have to work harder to get on their feet. It was about 15 years ago that Schacht was saying the same thing to the German people under Hitler.

Ike's Returns To Show Some Odd Investments

WASHINGTON—Gen. Eisenhower's income taxes, when and if published, will contain some small and interesting enterprises that the public doesn't know about. There's nothing wrong about them, but the public doesn't ordinarily think of a five-star general investing in a lipstick company or a restaurant.

However, Eisenhower has a stock interest in the "Charm-More" Company which puts out lipsticks. He was one of the original investors when the company was first organized.

He also owns part of a Howard Johnson restaurant in Washington, D.C. George Allen, the former White House jester got Ike into this deal, along with another famous Democrat, Ed Pauley, the big California oil man. The restaurant is located in downtown Washington.

Ike also has his farm in Gettysburg, which he bought through George Allen.

Only embarrassing thing in Ike's income tax returns in addition to the generous capital gains tax which the treasury let him pay on the $1,000,000 received on his book, is an exemption on his house received while president of Columbia.

In 1948 the general wrote the Treasury asking that his house, plus 12 servants and upkeep not be considered as income since he was required by the university to live there. The Treasury ruled in his favor, gave him tax exemption on his Columbia expenses.

In contrast, the Treasury has balked at letting waiters, waitresses, bellhops, chambermaids, who also may have to live in hotels, deduct their meals and lodging. These must be treated as taxable income, except under certain circumstances.

For instance, waiters in restaurants do not have to treat as income a noon-day luncheon served while they are on duty; but cannot deduct dinner at the end of the day if served to them when their work is over.

Nurses who have to live in hospitals were finally given more favorable treatment than waiters, though only after a long Treasury wrangle; whereas Eisenhower got his ruling without any trouble.

The man who gave him the rulings on both the book, which saved him about $500,000, and the house at Columbia was Charles Oliphant, who resigned after bitter criticism by Republican congressmen.

NOTE—At Columbia, Eisenhower received his regular Army pay of $15,751, plus three aides or stenographers, plus a car, in addition to Columbia University remuneration.

HARVARD ADVISERS

The Eisenhower train is far better organized than Gov. Stevenson's entourage. Little is left to chance around Eisenhower, especially the advance men who precede the train with banners, signs and even balloons.

In contrast, the Stevenson party hasn't even always arranged for hotel reservations.

The fact that most of the advisers around the Democratic candidate are Harvard graduates caused Mike Reilly, former White House secret service man now guarding Stevenson, to remark:

"Harvard is going to have to start a new course—'How to Select a Presidential Candidate.'"

MURDER IN MARYLAND

There was some frantic backstage manipulating aboard the Eisenhower train as it rolled into Maryland. The general had been tipped off that Edward Grammer, on trial for murdering his wife, then putting her in a runaway automobile, would try to subpoena Eisenhower as a character witness.

This started some urgent telegrams to Maryland authorities beginning at 3 a.m. Finally, Maryland's secretary of state dug up an old law which held that a man need not testify as a character witness if he signed an affidavit that he didn't know the defendant. Eisenhower promptly signed such an affidavit and quit worrying about process-servers.

Betty Lemon, owner of Blanca, said the Pyrenees was discouraged at first with the home-sharing arrangement, but she says she has become accustomed to it.

BY JEFF WITHROW Star Staff Writer

Here's proof that two dogs, with opposing personalities, can live together in harmony—even with a 2-year-old child around.

Blanca, a Great Pyrenees, and Lady Starmist of Rickhaven, a Collie, were first introduced on a ranch in Santa Fe, N. M. The dogs got along fine there. Lots of running room gave them the opportunity to get away from each other when tempers grew short.

When brought to their present home at 1701 C, the situation was different—the two dogs had to live together in close quarters and like it.

Betty Lemon, owner of Blanca, said the Pyrenees was discouraged at first with the home-sharing arrangement, but she says she has become accustomed to it.

Added to the problem of living with each other, Blanca and Lady have 2-year-old Ricky Lemon, Miss Lemon's nephew, under their feet and on their backs.

Ricky, according to Miss Lemon, loves to ride the dogs like giant punching bags.

To Blanca, 3 1/2 years old, and Lady, 4 1/2, both of whom were raised to herd sheep and live in the wide open spaces, this was an embarrassing situation. But both dogs have taken Ricky's antics with a smile and haven't so much as nipped him as yet.

Blanca, who was featured in Man's Best Friend last October, took to the city life with little trouble and regards an automobile ride as one of the greatest pleasures.

Lady regards cars as something worse than castor oil and has little to do with them. In fact Lady does away with a practice of following Blanca wherever she goes when Blanca enters the family car.

And Lady, who belongs to Miss Lemon's brother Bill, has a few bad habits that Blanca doesn't like. For instance the white Pyrenees refuses to lower herself to beg for her dinner as Lady does. She eyes Lady with disgust for begging and will accept her dinner only when it's brought to her.

Proof that the two dogs have accepted each other as permanent companions is the fact that Blanca permits Lady to share the living-room couch and the space under the kitchen table with her.

Said Miss Lemon, "that took time." Blanca took over the couch and the kitchen position first, then Lady moved in with slow, careful, day-by-day maneuverings to share the favored retreats.

The People Speak

Nixon And Eisenhower

Curtis, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Nixon affair has now given us a clear picture of candidates Eisenhower and Nixon. At least one voter who had intended to vote for them will never consider that again. Circumstances and experience tell us that the $18,000 fund is a mistake. When such funds are so used, the middle class and poorer people have no chance to secure favorable consideration as against the rich. Nixon was not cleansed by his own speech but the influence of those benefited saved him his position. Eisenhower had no strength to oppose Nixon's action.

California will be lost to the Republicans, if our information is correct, because the fruitful funds of that state are only in rare cases owned by those who work them. It is to be regretted that "Harry" Stevenson is not a stronger candidate. The condition is very bad because it will not give people full faith in their government.

C. R. HERRICK

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: After reading the newspapers about the Nixon and Stevenson affair, I believe the Republicans would have done better had they nominated Bob Taft and Gov. Warren. And the Democrats would have done better if they had nominated Sen. Kefauver who was certainly the choice of the people and whose honesty is unquestionable. But it's too late now.

C. J. JOHNSON

Anslemo, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems as if these "messes" are all clearing up. We find that corruption is really not corruption if it is by the right party.

M. S. DAILY

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The more the drama unfolds on the political scene, the more this writer is impressed with the sight of Uncle Sam having his pockets picked.

All the dramatics of Sen. Nixon fails to erase stubborn facts. That $40,000 Washington home is enough for this writer to know. Nixon having been a supporter of the Tidelands oil grab in the Senate, which would pluck Uncle Sam's pockets, why shouldn't California oil men contribute liberally?

And Dwight Eisenhower—his method of fitting himself by an income tax "loophole" robs me of any respect for the Eisenhower ideology as relates to his Crusaderism. What was his method? Claiming rights of "capital investment" by claiming something other than being a writer and author, he was able to cut his normal tax of 77 per cent down to 25 per cent and saved $520,000, which, in turn, Uncle Sam lost. And Uncle Sam has fed and clothed him all these years!

President Accuses Gen. Eisenhower Of 'Blundering' In Europe

Ike Is Asked To Admit His Mistake

From Press Dispatches
ABOARD THE TRUMAN SPECIAL—President Truman charged Tuesday that Gen. Eisenhower failed to envision Russia as a menace to world peace during his service as commanding general of Allied forces in Europe and said it was a "blunder" which endangered the nation's security.

Mr. Truman leveled the accusation in one of the sharpest attacks of the presidential campaign. The President, continuing his whistle-stop tour through the Midwest and West, declared:

"After the war, while he was still the commanding general of our forces in Europe, he said that he saw no reason why Russia and the United States would not remain the closest possible friends."

(Headquarters of the Republican presidential candidate in New York had no comment on the charge.)

In Close Contact
In a major foreign policy speech at Havre, Mont., the chief executive said the foresight of his former army chief of staff "was not nearly as good as his hindsight," and added:

"Of course, we can all make mistakes. But the Republican candidate was the commanding general in Europe and was in close contact with the Russians. His advice carried great weight. It therefore, did a great deal of harm."

The President said Eisenhower's opinion was voiced when the general appeared before a congressional committee in 1945.

Urging election of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson, Mr. Truman said the Illinois governor knows the dangers of Communism and knows that "we had to take measures to stop it."

The President called on the voters to get rid of what he called "Republican blowhards who indulge in hot air bombardments," and asserted the GOP candidate

ARRESTED BROWDER ENTERS COURTHOUSE—Earl Browder, hatless and tieless, is escorted into federal courthouse by an FBI agent after his arrest Tuesday in New York on charges of making false statements in his wife's naturalization proceeding. is acting like a man "who just doesn't care about the important issues or the truth."

Mr. Truman also made brief talks at Glasgow, Malta and Chinook during his trip through Montana.

He called on Eisenhower to "be honest enough to admit his blunder about Russia." Mr. Truman said that had Eisenhower provided better advice in 1945, the United States would have had less difficulty in awakening Americans to the Red peril.

Leaving his train at Chester, Truman drove 25 miles over a dirt road to participate in ground breaking ceremonies for the Tiber Dam.

Truman pressed a button which set off an explosion turning the first dirt for the dam. When he touched off the blast, Truman quipped, "That is what we are going to do to Eisenhower."

Browder, Wife Are Seized By FBI On Charge Of Lying

NEW YORK (AP)—Earl Browder, and his Russian-born wife were suddenly and quietly seized Tuesday by the FBI.

They were accused of lying about Mrs. Browder's Communist background in 1949 while she was seeking American citizenship. She and her husband, it was charged, both swore she never was a Red.

The couple was held in default of $2,500 bail each after Browder told Federal Judge John W. Clancy:

"I have no money of my own." Although kicked out of the party, Browder has maintained to this day that he still is a Communist.

Liquor Commission Suspends License Of Hubbard Man

The State Liquor Control Commission Tuesday has suspended for 30 days the Class C license of Harold Walsh, Hubbard, who was given a hearing on Sept. 23 on charges of selling to persons already intoxicated and excessive drinking on the premises himself.

Dean and Caroline Barker, Snyder, also were given a 30 day license suspension on charges heard Sept. 24 that they sold to persons already intoxicated and allowed such persons to loiter on the premises. They have an inside beer license.

Jack Bocek, Omaha, on charges of selling to persons already intoxicated was given a 14 day suspension.

The package liquor license of Lewis S. Haroldson, Bloomfield was suspended for seven days. He was given a hearing on charges of sales to minors on Sept. 24.

Chest Campaign Leaders Are Given Directions

One hundred women leaders of the residential section of the approaching Community Chest campaign met Tuesday morning at the YWCA to receive campaign information and directions for enlisting workers.

Elsworth F. DuTeau, publicity and education chairman of the campaign, discussed the responsibilities of solicitor in appealing for funds for the sick, disabled and homeless.

The women, who will solicit about 1,500 prospects, will not ask for Red Cross contributions as will be done in downtown drives.

'United Europe Is Only Road To Survival'

A United States of Europe is the only road to survival for the Western nations of the continent. To survive and to achieve a living standard comparable to America, the small European countries must pool their resources.

That was the opinion of Heinz Schreiner, native of Vienna, Austria, and graduate student at the University of Nebraska, who addressed the Lincoln Rotary Club at its noon luncheon.

Schreiner said "Austria is a keystone to unity as a strategic crossroads between the East and West in Europe."

Although a United States of Europe has been largely a movement of politicians and not the people as it should be, the Austrian believes it will be universal in 10 years. "The war veterans and young generations of Austria and the western countries of Europe are behind a united Europe," he declared.

$9,000 Claim Granted In Truck-Car Accident

A Nebraska City man's claim against the estate of Lloyd E. Smith, who was a partner in the Smith Baking Company before his death, was allowed, in part, Tuesday by County Judge Herbert A. Ronin.

Perry Merritt was granted $9,000 in payment for injuries and property damage he suffered as a result of a truck-auto accident Feb. 6, 1950. Merritt had petitioned for a judgment of $75,000.

The truck which struck Merritt's automobile was one belonging to the baking company.

Plans for the year's program were discussed and committee members given assignments.

North Platte Man Heads Osteopaths

The Nebraska Osteopathic Association elected Dr. E. B. Drost of North Platte as its new president Tuesday during the closing day of its state convention in Lincoln. He succeeds C. S. Griffin of Seward.

Dr. D. O. Brown of Auburn was elected vice president and Robert Downing of Superior was renamed executive secretary.

During the morning business meeting and election of officers, the group heard a report by Dr. Angela McCreary of Omaha, state delegate to the national convention at Atlantic City in July.

Dr. C. Lloyd Peterson and Dr. Clyde Henry, both of Denver, Colo., continued lecture-discussions which included "Differential diagnosis between intra-abdominal and urological lesions," "lumbar spine," "cancer—the problem of early diagnosis," and "Unusual X-ray films."

The osteopathic convention adjourned late Tuesday afternoon at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Patrol Hours On Highways Cut Sharply

Hours spent in patrolling Nebraska highways in an effort to control traffic and prevent accidents was sharply reduced during August of this year as compared to a year ago, the monthly activity summary of the patrol revealed.

In August, 1951, troopers spent 29,752 hours on the road as compared to 26,370 in August this year. Capt. O. H. Witt, in charge of safety education and training, explains that the patrol has been reduced in the past year from 131 to 117 due to men being recalled to service and resignations.

He also pointed out that the necessity of issuing 1,963 summons to court for traffic violations in August as compared to 1,564 in the same month a year ago required that the troopers spend considerable more time in court.

Fines imposed on the 1,601 persons convicted in courts amounted to $25,376.

Speeding arrests increased from 609 in August a year ago to 908 this year with the 725 convicted paying fines of $10,589.

Allies Ponder New Pressure On Reds For Korean Armistice

Wider U.N. Embargo Is Possibility

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States is discussing with several close allies a double-barreled plan for the U.N. Assembly to urge the Communists to accept immediately an armistice in Korea or risk a wider U.N. embargo and condemnation.

A diplomatic source in close touch with the situation said Tuesday the Americans are considering this course in the Assembly opening Oct. 14.

1. Secretary of State Acheson would put before the Assembly—as soon as it has elected officers and opened general debate—a resolution by which the Assembly would express its approval of the U.N. proposals at Panmunjom, would urge the Communist Chinese and North Koreans to accept them.

2. The Communists would be given a reasonable time to answer, perhaps after the U.S. presidential election. If they do not answer or if they reject the appeal, the Americans want the Assembly to approve a resolution providing for stronger embargoes against Communist China and North Korea, for a strong condemnation of those two regimes, and for U.N. members who have not yet sent forces to Korea to chip in troops for the fight. Only 16 U.N. members plus South Korea actually have troops in Korea.

State Hospital Is Looking Forward To Banana Crop

The state hospital is looking forward to another crop of bananas this year.

This unusual bit of gardening has been going on for at least five years. That is how long Frank Coil has been in charge of the hospital's greenhouses and the trees were there when he came, he said.

Coil said the fruit was raised as more of a hobby rather than for profit or food for the hospital patients. Most of the bananas, he said, are picked off as soon as they are ripe.

September Blooms

While the trees have usually bloomed in June, Coil said the first blossoms came this year in September. The full grown fruit only about half the size of bananas bought at regular fruit markets, Coil said.

According to Coil, there is no trick in raising the yellow delicacies. It's just a matter of keeping the trees trimmed and supplied with plenty of water and fertilizer, he said.

While referred to as a tree, the plant is actually more like a shrub. The main stem grows to a height of eight feet while the plant is about eight inches wide.

There are four of the trees in the hospital's greenhouses. It takes about three months for the bananas to develop after they pass the blossom stage, Coil said. Each year, Coil said, a new stock has grown up from the roots of the roots of the old stem.

38 NU Students Sign For Debate Squad Activities

Thirty-eight University of Nebraska students have turned out for the University Debate Squad this year, reports Donald Olson, debate director.

The squad, which includes 17 veteran debaters, will argue the merits of a permanent Fair Employment Practices Committee this year. The national discussion topic concerns ways to combat most effectively Communism in the United States.

The first program of the semester is an exhibition debate between the University of Nebraska and the University of Missouri before the annual High School Discussion Clinic Oct. 18. The debaters will be arguing formation of a North Atlantic federation, one of three high school topics.

This is one of a series of exhibition debates being planned for the year, Olson said.

Russians Said Firing Guns At Allied Planes

SEOUL (AP)—A high U.S. Eighth Army officer said Tuesday, 5,000 or 6,000 Russian technicians and advisers are in North Korea and probably man anti-aircraft guns that fire on Allied planes.

This is the first time a high responsible officer has made such a charge although there has been much speculation that Russians fly jets or serve as technical advisers in anti-aircraft, tank and artillery units in Korea.

If true, much of the Communist anti-aircraft defense in Korea is an all-Russian operation, since the source said the guns were made in the Soviet Union.

The officer would not let his name be used. He is, however, in a responsible position and can speak with authority.

Man Ordered Post $1,000 Bond After Shooting Incident

John R. Murphy, 26, Lincoln, was ordered to post a $500 personal recognizance bond and a $500 peace bond Tuesday by County Judge Herbert A. Ronin.

Lincoln police arrested Murphy Sunday at his home. They were called after Murphy shot in his wife's direction with a 12-gauge shotgun. Murphy told police he and wife had been having an argument at the time he fired the shot.

Official Urges Air Force Road Restrictions

L. N. Ress, Deputy State Engineer, asked the Lancaster County Commissioners Tuesday to tighten the zoning regulations on property on either side of the access road from West O street to the airport.

The County Attorney's office will be asked to make a survey of the zoning regulations in that area and report their findings to the commissioners, according to Chauncey Barney, chairman.

Air Force officials have asked the state to make the access road a four-lane, divided highway.

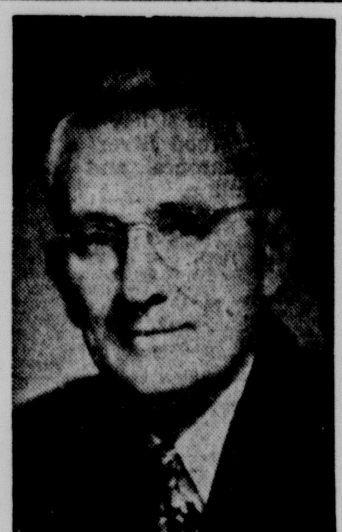

Drive-ins Hit

Meanwhile, Harold Aitken, state engineer, holds the "drive-ins" which spring up along heavily traveled highways partially to blame for a traffic condition he calls "hardening of the arteries," in the fringe areas around Nebraska cities.

He included in the drive-in classification — theaters, motels, filling stations, super-markets, eating places, and businesses which seek to trade on the traffic volume or which move out in search of more parking space for customers.

Other action taken by the County Commissioners during their regular Tuesday meeting was the approval of the appointment of William F. Jacob, 329 So. 18th, as deputy sheriff. He will replace Henry B. Lane who resigned effective Sept. 29.

$214 Million Program Proposed For Development Of Niobrara River Basin

2 Projects Urged For Early Work

AINSWORTH, Neb. (P)—Highlights of a $214 million program for developing the Niobrara River basin were unveiled here Tuesday.

Disclosed in part were features of a six-year study just completed by the Bureau of Reclamation. The full report has not yet been released and is still preliminary, being subject to review and change by the Reclamation Commissioner in Washington.

But some of the essential findings were described by Clyde E. Burdick, area engineer for the Bureau of Reclamation at Ainsworth, before the annual meeting of the Niobrara River Basin Development Association.

The report outlines possibilities for a series of dams and other water works on the main stem and tributaries. The total cost of the projects outlined is estimated at $214,875,000.

Some of the individual projects were found economically feasible; that is, their returns would be in acceptable ratio to the costs. But some were found not economically justified at the present time, Burdick said.

MALCOLM CHURCH PAINTED — Men of the Methodist Church at Malcolm turned Tuesday to put a second coat of paint on the 68-year-old building. Five of the crew members on the front of the church are: (l. to r.) on ground, Fred Behring and Owen Perry; on steps, Lloyd Behring.

Chester Allen and Dean Pillard. A total of 25 men helped paint the two coats. William Benischek Sr. was supervisor of the work, and Wayne Fisher was chairman of the committee in charge with Donald Perry and Elmo Baade as committee members. (Star Photo.)

Young Mother Fatally Hurt In Auto Crash

VALENTINE, Neb. (P)—Mrs. Lois A. Piper, 21, Ainsworth, was injured fatally when she apparently lost control of her car 7 1/2 miles east of here.

The car overturned on a stretch of road which is under construction and closed to public travel. Patrolman Marvin Hansen of Valentine, who investigated, said:

Mrs. Piper's two-month-old son, Richard, who was traveling with her, escaped injury.

The death was the 250th reported so far this year from a motor vehicle accident in Nebraska. A year ago, the figure was 240.

Soldier's Wife Dead

Also added to the state fatality toll was Mrs. Helen L. Stevens, wife of an Offutt Air Force Base soldier, who was killed in an auto-truck crash west of Omaha.

Highway Patrolman Herbert Wallace said Mrs. Stevens was thrown from the rear seat of the auto by the impact and wheels of the truck apparently passed over her. Mrs. Stevens' husband, Kenneth, and their two sons, Kenneth Jr., 6, and Gary, 5, were treated at County Hospital in Omaha and transferred to the Offutt Air Force Base hospital.

The driver of the truck, Lawrence Thayer, 30, of North Platte, and a passenger, Frank H. Melvin, 62, of Flats, Neb., were not injured.

Officers said the front of the eastbound livestock truck struck the right rear fender of the southbound auto. The car did not overturn.

Woman, 48, Drowns In Water Barrel

MILBURN, Neb. (P)—Mrs. Howard Turner, 48, Milburn postmistress, drowned while cleaning a water barrel across the road from her home.

County Attorney James R. Kelly said the barrel was buried about half-down in the ground and was from one-quarter to half full of water.

It was believed Mrs. Turner, who weighed about 200 pounds, fell into the barrel while cleaning it and couldn't get out. Her body was face down in the water.

A daughter, Donna, had gone to the Turner home and when she couldn't find her mother, went to the Milburn store where she learned her mother had planned to clean the barrel. She found the body.

Attempts to revive Mrs. Turner through artificial respiration failed. Kelly said it was a case of accidental drowning.

Besides Donna, survivors include her husband and a son, Sonny.

Wheat Fields Badly In Need Of Moisture

96 Per Cent Of Corn Has Hit Maturity

The State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics reported Tuesday that winter wheat planted in some of the dryer sections of Nebraska has not sprouted, and it echoed the voices of farmers with the statement, "An inch or two of rain is needed badly."

The office, in its weekly crop report, went on to say that reports from some counties where wheat has sprouted indicate that the planting is coming up unevenly. Reports continue to come in that wheat is dying for lack of moisture.

At the beginning of this week about 86 per cent of Nebraska's winter wheat had been planted. With few exceptions, there has been no good rain since Sept. 1, and farmers have hesitated to seed wheat because of the dry soil.

At this time about 96 per cent of Nebraska's corn crop has matured. The office said the moisture content is 38 per cent or less, the point at which the crop is judged mature. The crop is considered ready for cribbing when it drops to 21 per cent moisture.

"Splendid Corn Crop" "The outlook is for a splendid crop of corn," the report said. "It is excellent in the eastern third of the state and fair in most of the western two-thirds. The quality of corn should be excellent except for corn damaged by the dry weather."

Pastures in Nebraska were described as needing rain badly. Much of the pasture has been cured, and there has been a good growth of grass or aftermath in the eastern portion of the sandhills.

The report said shipments of cattle to country points in August totaled 44,000 head, down 8 per cent from August of 1951.

No precipitation was reported from the 38 stations in the state last week.

New Oil Field May Open With Thompson Well

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP)—The Deep Rock Oil Co. has acknowledged a small oil find at its Thompson No. 1 well west of Sidney but declined to state that showing at the test indicates a successful well. The firm did say, however, it was encouraged.

It found four feet of oil saturated sand in a core test but the sand also contained water, making testing difficult.

The discovery of a well capable of commercial production in that area would open up an entirely new producing area. Dr. George Thompson, Sidney, owns the land on which the test is being made.

Meanwhile, the Ohio Oil Co. is moving a mile east of its Kugler area to drill on the Earl Geu farm northwest of Sunol, and the Chicago Corp. and Republic Natural Gas have staked out a location south of Sidney.

Ohio also reported completion of its Johnson No. 5 in Cheyenne County, but said its Everett No. 1 wildcat in Kimball County looked like a dud.

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A. — A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. The Dawn Brought A Variety Of News

SOMETHING HAS been added to the approaching week end—namely, the vim and vigor—that seemed to be lacking in the activity involving the first game of the season—Doubtless October's bright blue weather may take a bow on that score—for the sunny days, the cool evenings seem to be conducive to entertaining, and the calendar is generously dotted with a variety of parties from now until the far-side of the week-end.

BUT BEFORE we delve too deeply into the matter of luncheons, dinners, hors d'oeuvres parties and such, we want to tell you an exciting bit of news—and here it is—This morning Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith of North Platte are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Beverly, to Donald E. Devries Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Devries of Lincoln.

The wedding took place on Wednesday, June 4, in Sioux City, Ia.

Mrs. Devries completed her junior year last June at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Mr. Devries was graduated from Shattuck school, Fairbault, Minn., and now is a senior at the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Mr. Devries and his bride will reside at 3330 So. 31st.

CAN'T THINK of a better time to announce the members of the bridal party for the wedding of Miss Ann Gilligan and Carter Frederick Iddings, which takes place on Oct. 18, than right now—Miss Gilligan has chosen her sister, Mrs. Joseph Partington of Detroit, Mich., as her matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Snooky Corryell, Miss Marian Whitworth, Miss Mary Ann Zimmerman, and Miss Mary Ellen Callahan of Wichita, Kan. Lighting the candles will be Miss Joyce Johnson and Miss Betty Due of Sioux Falls, S.D.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

Minerva's Mail

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Probably many of you have been considering Nora's problem that was contained in her letter on Tuesday morning, and wondering what you would do under similar circumstances. Well, I have been thinking about it, too, of course, and I am basing my reply to Nora on knowledge I have had of just such family problems through the years. A wife's first instinct, I suspect, is to walk out, definitely and completely—and think about the future later. I have seen that happen, and nine times out of every 10 she wishes she hadn't. Please don't misunderstand me—I am in no way condoning unfaithfulness on the part of any husband—or wife, and I firmly believe there is just as much on one side as the other.

Years ago I knew a most unhappy wife. She told me her troubles about her husband—he, so she said, was very unfaithful, spent money on other girls, and seldom was home to share any companionship she might have to offer. The couple had a young daughter whose education was just getting to a somewhat expensive stage—I asked the wife what she intended to do about the situation.

"Nothing," she replied. "I am not fitted in any way to earn my own living. My husband's income is not large enough to support my daughter and me as well as stretch over to another wife he might eventually have." She went on to say that as long as she could not earn her own living in the business world and must accept complete financial support from her husband, she should remain in his home as a cook and housekeeper. That way, she stated, she felt that she was indeed earning her way as well as preventing him from having his entire freedom to do with as he pleased.

Every wife who faces such an ordeal has a choice. She may stay or go—Sometimes the staying is harder than the going would be, but it does have its good points, especially when children are involved. The family remaining under the same roof gives them at least a semblance of a home and security. They may not understand all of the problems, and it is much better that they don't in order to keep their loyalties undivided, and to keep the young minds free from such worries.

Were I in your place, Nora, I would stay. Let the neighbors wonder if you do or don't know—and if any of them feel inclined to pass a hint, ignore it—

Then there is the age-old cure you might try—invite the widow and her sons to your home frequently. In fact, have them underfoot most of the time. That has been done many times by clever wives who found that constant association tends to lessen the glamor—But regardless of cures—keep your head. You have two daughters who need a whole family. It would be difficult, even with alimony, to maintain an adequate home, and even more difficult if you felt you should augment the income by going to work. I think you show a great intelligence in remaining right where you are.

By JOHN ROBERT POWERS

With autumn greens sprouting in every important collection, you'll be missing out on a lot of fashion as well as personal flattery unless this prize color is included in your wardrobe this season either in one costume or as an important accent for one.

For flattery, just be certain that the shade you select intensifies what's prettiest in your own coloring. The rich, yellowed olives, mosses and avocados do this for golden skins; the deep, blue, forest tones complement fair complexions.

As an accent, in bag and shoes, hat and gloves or any other accessory, scheme for subtle contrasts when you choose your shade of green. The blue greens look custom-made for winter beiges, navies and medium, rosy reds. Like cream with coffee, the yellowed green blend with golden brown, bright spice shades and medium gray.

As with any color that you wear, selective make-up will heighten green's effectiveness. If your skin is touched with sallowness, use a bronze-tinted base when you wear green. Apply a pink-toned one if you are ghostly pale. Tone down a sunset glow with a beige foundation.

Your choice of lipstick is most important in compelling green to work its greatest magic for your beauty. Brilliant true-reds are first in favor for brunet skins and rosy pinks for the fair damsels.

In eye shadow, no shade other than green can prove so alluring for the hazel brown or green eye. Gray and blue eyes spark to lively brown shadows.

Big Seven Council Rules Cyclone Star Ineligible

AMES, Ia. (AP)—Coach Abe Stuber, readying his Iowa State football team for its Big Seven opener with Nebraska Saturday, learned Tuesday that first-string tackle Jack Erickson has been ruled ineligible for further conference competition.

A ruling by the Big Seven Faculty Council Monday at Kansas City declared that Erickson's competition as a freshman at Beloit College, Beloit, Wis., and as a plebe at the United States Military Academy, plus a year of varsity competition at West Point entitles him to no further Big Seven eligibility.

Stuber said that Erickson, a transfer from West Point last year, was a "fine player and a fine leader. This will really be quite a loss to us."

Concerning Erickson's eligibility, athletic officials here said the Big Seven permits two freshman games, within the conference, and does not charge it against varsity eligibility, but that freshman competition outside the conference is counted.

Louis Menze, Iowa State athletic director, said:

"Since the Big Seven conference makes an exception to the two freshman games permitted in the conference, I strongly feel the one freshman game that Erickson played at Beloit should not have been charged against his eligibility."

Big Joe Out As Ram Pilot

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Joe Stydahr parted company with the Los Angeles Rams Monday and was replaced as head coach by his backfield assistant, Hampton Pool.

Stydahr, who had been discharged from the defending champions of the National Football League.

Ram President Dan Reeves announced:

"I am accepting Joe's resignation under the conditions offered by him."

Stydahr, after receiving a telephone call from Reeves, said:

"I'm through and as far as I am concerned I was fired."

It is expected that Stydahr will be paid the balance of his salary for the year plus a $7500 settlement. Stydahr had signed a new three-year contract after guiding the Rams to the NFL title last December.

Stydahr's "resignation" or ouster came as an aftermath of a meeting with Reeves in Cleveland last Sunday following the Rams' 37-to-7 loss to the Cleveland Browns in the opening league game of the 1952 professional season.

Stydahr and Pool are known to have been feuding since last season.

two or three years tried to get this rule modified. The purpose of the rule was to legislate against a player who had had the added experience of an eight or ten game freshman schedule.

"By a strict literal interpretation of the conference rules Erickson is further participation after having had only one year of varsity competition."

MANHATTAN, Kas.—Coach Bill Meek pulled the canvas curtain around his Kansas State football practice session Tuesday and announced that all drills this week would be secret.

Meek indicated he was trying to cook up some big medicine for the Wildcats' homecoming game against Missouri Saturday afternoon, and he doesn't want any Missourians to learn the prescription.

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Coach Don Faurot Tuesday warned his University of Missouri football team it will meet spirited opposition from Kansas State during the homecoming game at Manhattan Saturday.

Members of the first two teams were given an additional day to lick their California wounds before embarking on rough practice Wednesday.

BOULDER, Colo.—Six University of Colorado regulars were sidelined from light scrimmage work Tuesday because of injuries as the Buffaloes prepared for Saturday's battle with the University of Kansas at Lawrence.

Trainer Aubrey Allen and team physician Dr. G. O. Giffin said "three or four" of the players might not see action this week.

Out of action Tuesday were End Ronnie Johnson, Tackle Bill Allen and End Don Brandy. They were injured in last week's game with Oklahoma.

Halfback Woody Shelton will have another examination Wednesday. He has received no contact work since he was injured in the season opener against San Jose State.

LAWRENCE, Kan.—Coach Jules Sikes said he was worried about the condition of several of his Jayhawks for Kansas' big game with Colorado here Saturday.

On the injury list and listed as doubtful performers this week are Galen Fiss, ace linebacker and offensive fullback; Offensive End Jerry Bogue and Defensive Tackle George Mironic. All three are suffering from knee injuries.

NORMAN, Okla.—Coach Bud Wilkinson gave his University of Oklahoma football squad "the work" Tuesday, drilling the Sooners in every department for their Saturday clash with Pittsburgh.

The Sooners scrimmaged offensively and defensively, worked on handoff timing, passing, punting and were lectured on Pitt plays.

Wes Hultquist, Macy Pace NWU's Offensive Game

SPECTACULAR punting by Wes Hultquist and a passing attack that has netted 27 completions in 52 plays for a total of 385 yards have paced Nebraska Wesleyan's inauspicious start in 1952 football wars.

While losing two of their first three starts, the Plainsmen have demonstrated some vestiges of a potent offensive attack, along with a tendency to sputter to a halt at crucial moments.

In the three games to date, Hultquist has been called upon to punt 20 times. He has responded with a total of 852 kicking yards for a 52.6 average.

The name Hultquist pops up in every offensive category on the Plainsman statistical sheet with Quarterback Marvin Macy, and Halfback Glenn Reed, both freshmen, giving the most help.

Hultquist leads in rushing yardage with 148 yards in 27 tries for a 5.4 average. Reed has netted 110 in 23 attempts for a 4.8 mark. Neither has been stopped behind the line of scrimmage this season.

Macy has compiled the best passing record with 16 hits in 25 attempts for 233 yards. Hultquist has completed 11 out of 27 for 152 yards.

Macy leads in total offense (the sum of net yards rushing and passing) with 320. He has engi-

Secrecy Cloak Lifted From Army's Atomic Cannon

Giant Gun Will Shoot 20 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has stripped the secrecy mantle from a huge gun made to shoot atomic shells at enemy troops on a battlefield 20 miles away.

At the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Grounds the other day the Army showed off two of the guns to visitors to:

1. Back up its year-old claim that it really has its own atomic weapons, just as the Air Force and the Navy have planes to carry atomic bombs.

2. Show that the 85-ton gun can travel highways, wheel off to travel cross-country to wherever an Army division commander wants an atomic barrage put down and then go into action within 20 minutes.

The visitors came away from the demonstration convinced that the atomic cannon now appears ready to join the other artillery of the Army.

Whether or not it so far has fired an actual atomic shell no one except a few experts in the Army and Atomic Energy Commission

ARMY DEMONSTRATES ATOMIC CANNON—A giant self-propelled cannon designed to deliver an atomic blast deep into enemy territory is demonstrated at the Aberdeen, Md., Proving Ground. The shell can be fitted with either an atomic or conventional high-explosive warhead. This is the first time the Army has permitted the cannon to be photographed. (AP Wirephoto Tuesday Night.)

IN 60 SECONDS YOU CAN MAKE THIS EASY WHISKEY TEST

ARE YOU CERTAIN you have discovered the big difference in whiskies? Did you know that there is an amazing difference in smoothness... mellowness... in freedom from harshness?
Make this easy Calvert 60-second test and you'll know which whiskey you really like best.

1. SNIFF! Compare the bouquet of Calvert with any other whiskey on the market, without knowing which is which. The best way is to use 1/4-oz. test samples.

2. TASTE! Sip both Calvert and the other whiskey and carefully judge the difference in smoothness and mellowness. Swallow slowly to compare freedom from bite, burn or sting.

3. CHOOSE! Simply pick the whiskey that really tastes better to you. We honestly believe you'll choose Calvert... because its finer taste is determined by scientific taste test made by thousands of folks like you. But—after testing—if you still prefer another brand, stick with it. Fair enough?

PIN-WORMS GO!

Jayne's P-W Gets Real Results

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's P-W medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for Jayne's P-W Vermicide... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

FRESNO, Calif.—Thanksgiving came a bit early this fall to denizens of a Fresno hobo jungle where a train hit a truck loaded with live turkeys.

Truck driver Dwight Nelson, 30, of Modesto, was treated for minor injuries, but it is believed casualties were serious among about 100 of the traditional Thanksgiving birds loosed among the hungry transients.

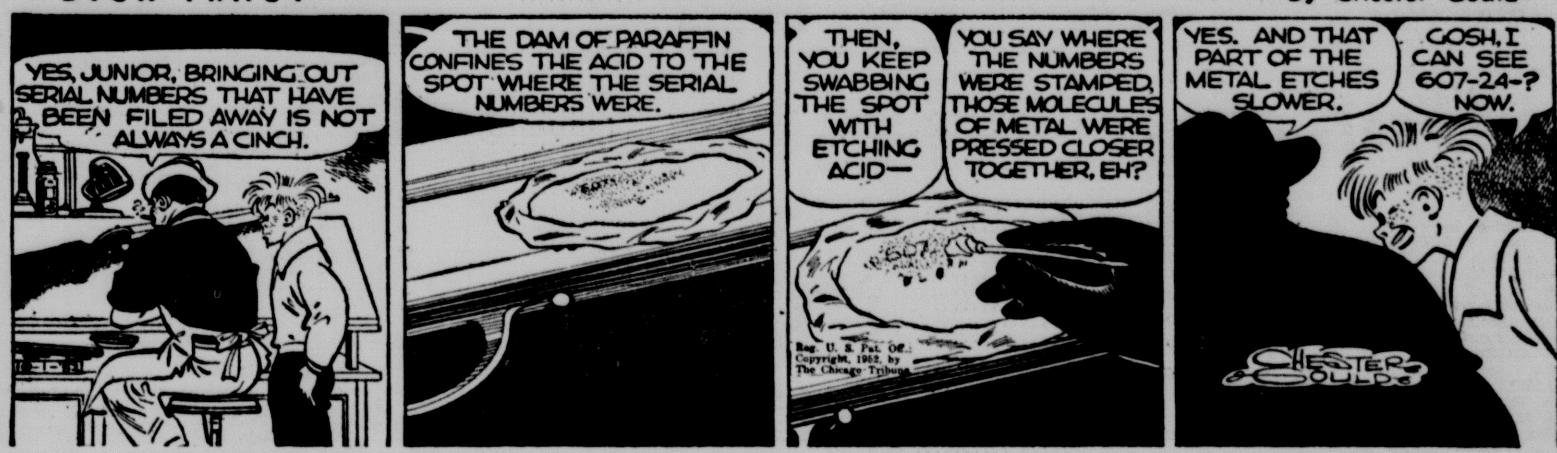

HOLLYWOOD—Comedian Ed Wynn was presented with a sheriff's badge in recognition of his 50 years as an entertainer by Los Angeles County Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz.

After receiving the gift, Wynn quipped: "Sheriff, while you have been keeping the peace for 45 years, I have been disturbing it for 50 years."
